Welcome to Roddis

Manufacturers of kitchen cabinets, architectural millwork, and store fixtures in the San Antonio area depend on Roddis Lumber for prompt delivery from our large inventory of hardwood plywood, industrial composite panel products, and hardwood lumber. Roddis is on the leading edge of the wood product industry in distribution of innovative and environmentally progressive products. Architects, carpenters and many other design professionals are encouraged to contact us during the early stages of project development to discuss the projects overall objective so we may provide products offering the best value. Our aggressive pursuit of outstanding customer service includes new offerings of products certified by the Forest Stewardship Council or the Sustainable Forestry Initiative, products with no added urea formaldehyde, and rapidly renewable agricultural products. These products support "green building" standards, are sustainable products that qualify for LEED building standards. We here at Roddis Lumber and Veneer are dedicated to provide you with the best lumber products for any use.
